

AUSTRALIAN CATHOLIC BISHOPS CONFERENCE

Media Release

December 9, 2009

Statement of the Catholic Bishops on the Climate Change Conference in Copenhagen, Denmark.

The Bishops of Australia join with Pope Benedict XVI in commending all those involved in the Climate Change Conference in Copenhagen, Denmark to work for the future wellbeing of creation and human development by finding ways that “are respectful of creation and that will promote a joint development based on human dignity and for the common good” (Pope Benedict, Angelus address, 6 Dec 2009).

With the Pope the Catholic Bishops recognise the importance of respecting “the laws laid down by God in nature” and encourage a focus on the “moral dimension of human life” (ibid).

The Catholic Bishops of Australia pray for the success of this conference that it may unite nations in a genuine effort to be good stewards of what the Creator has entrusted to us and ensure that future generations can benefit from the wise provision of God for humanity.
